

WHY WE USE DOCUSIGN

Improving our customer experience.

The convenience of being able to sign documents wherever you are means that you can continue with your day-to-day business activities or enjoy your leisure time without the interruption of document management.

We can also turn around the documents in hours instead of days reducing the impact of time delays and lack of reliability of the postal service. This eliminates the risk of Australia Post delivery issues and enhances the security of your personal financial information.

DocuSign also requires that all signatures be completed minimising the risk of time delays from missing signatures.

DocuSign meets the highest international standards for document security ensuring documents are kept within a completely secure environment rather than in email, fax or post.

This also enables the documents to be stored where they can be retrieved through secure login protecting your documents from accidental loss or damage.

Digital document signing allows us to move forward with our commitment to a paperless office - reducing our impact on the planet.

We understand some clients will still want to receive their tax returns, financial statements and other accounts in paper form, and that ultimately, our clients will determine their preferred delivery method. Please let us know if you would still prefer to receive a paper copy.

DocuSign enables us to get necessary signatures faster than ever, while still meeting strict legal requirements.

It is part of our commitment to improving customer experience while reducing our impact on the planet.
